

Curriculum Riccardo Nunzio Barbagallo

From 1996 to present prof. Riccardo Barbagallo is researcher in the AGR15 scientific area at the University of Catania. Since 2001, he has the role of scientific referent of several research programs funded by the University of Catania and is component of other national and regional projects. He is the author of n. 217 scientific publications, many of which included on the Scopus and Web of Science databases and reviewer of qualified scientific journals. Advisor of more than n. 67 thesis of degree in "Food Science and Technology", "Agricultural Science and Technology" and "Manager Agribusiness" and 1 Ph.D. thesis. He is also tutor of ca. 150 traineeships pre- and post- graduation. Since the academic year 1997-98, he teaches in the "Food Science and Technology", "Agricultural Science and Technology" and "Management of Agribusiness" degree courses. He teaches academic disciplines in the 07/F1 sector, Food Quality, Food Processing, Food Biotechnology, Citrus Processing, Food Industry, Food Technology, Food Technology II, and disciplines in 07/F2 sector, Food Microbiology, Agricultural Microbiology, Soil Microbiology.